Teacher Bio

I am certified to teach Art K-12 in the state of Tennessee, and I have been teaching for over 20 years. I am also a certified Advanced Placement Instructor for painting. I hold a Master of Arts degree in Teaching and Learning with a specialty in Technology Integration in the Classroom.

Although I am not certified in foreign language, I have taught German. I have taught Art History and Darkroom Photography at the high school and college level. Although I unfortunately do not have access to a darkroom, I continue my love of photography using a digital camera and learning to use Photoshop. I have been certified to teach art in Massachusetts and Tennessee. I have also taught in S. Korea and Germany. I love art of all types. If I see a technique I find interesting, I try to learn how to do it. So, I am constantly experimenting and learning. I am a ClubZ tutor and am tutoring Pre-Algebra at the moment. Last month I tutored a student in ACT Prep. I am a freelance artist for Milano Worldwide that produces memory globes. I have worked as assistant to the tennis Pro in Massachusetts and have coached two different high school tennis teams.

I am a wife of a retired Air Force officer. We have lived just about all over the world and the U.S. We are members of the Highland Heights Presbyterian Church, and I frequently help out with Vacation Bible School and chaperone mission trips with the youth group. My husband and I love music and play a lot of Bluegrass together. He plays guitar, mandolin, and some Dobro. I play guitar and am learning the banjo. We perform at church and various community venues. I often attend Memphis Calligraphy Guild meetings, but am not a member.
